

Keith J. Mueller

Director, RUPRI Center for Rural Health Policy Analysis and Chair, RUPRI Rural Health Panel

Keith Mueller, Ph.D. is Chair of the Department of Health Services Research & Administration, College of Public Health, in the University of Nebraska Medical Center. He is also the director of both the Nebraska Center for Rural Health Research and the RUPRI Center for Rural Health Policy Analysis. He has served as President of the National Rural Health Association. His government service includes terms on the National Advisory Committee on Rural Health and Human Services and the Advisory Panel on Medicare Education for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, both in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. He has published more than 70 scholarly articles in health services research and policy and received awards recognizing his research contributions from NRHA, RUPRI, and the University of Nebraska. His RUPRI publications include commentaries on rural implications of major policy changes including the Medicare Modernization Act of 2003. Dr. Mueller has directed major health services studies funded by the U.S. Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, the Federal Office of Rural Health Policy, and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and he has served as grant reviewer for those agencies. He has testified on numerous occasions before committees of Congress and in other forums, including the Institute of Medicine and the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission.

